RE: 13-86

FCC,

I am sorry to hear that you are considering relaxing the restrictions forbidding profanity and nudity on prime time TV. Many of the misperceptions that Americans have about family life and the realities of life have already been skewed because of the edgy material that is permitted on TV. I think television is a great medium for communication and healthy entertainment; however, there are many TV shows that neither I nor my family watch because of the less than professional and worthwhile content. I would ask you to not lower the standards any further. My values may not be important to you, but I would likely do away with my cable service and TV reception and stay with the videos that I choose and possibly computer-enabled programs

Sincerely,

Jay Christofferson
